

DAZED

BODEGA

Another Lower East Side gem, Bodega is run by artists Elyse Derosia and Eric Veit. Their first space, in Philadelphia, opened in 2010, and became a go-to and much loved spot in Philly's Old City. In 2014 they up and moved to NY, where since spring, they've been quickly becoming a staple. Their recent exhibition, titled Keeping a Close Eye on the Wind, which featured works by Joshua Abelow and Gene Beery was a truly perfect pairing, and is no small indication of Bodega's ability to curate shows. Currently on view until 21 December is Three Cups Fragrance with works by artists Elizabeth Atterbury, Moyra Davey, Lukas Geronimas, Oto Gillen, Tom Humphreys, and Kyle Thurman.

Tom Humphreys's delicately uses china in his prints
Courtesy of bodega-us.org